Nannette Carrillo, RN

CERTIFIED REGISTERED NURSE

475 Seaview Avenue, Staten Island, NY 10305

Nannette is a bilingual neonatal intensive care nurse who is currently serving patients at Staten Island University Hospital (SIUH) in Staten Island, New York. SIUH is a two-campus, 714-bed specialized teaching hospital and a member hospital of Northwell Health. It provides care to the people of Staten Island, the New York metropolitan region, and to patients from around the world.

In May of 2010, Nannette earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from Long Island University Brooklyn in New York. She has been honored with several awards throughout her career, including Expressions of Gratitude in 2019, Daisy Award in 2015, Gold Metal Award, New York-Presbyterian Falcon Award, Seamen's Society for Children and Families Award, and the Charles Hermann Outstanding Leader Award.

A neonatal intensive care nurse is a licensed registered nurse with an advanced degree. They care for newborns who need around-the-clock attention. These young patients are typically born prematurely or with some type of illness or developmental defect, which can sometimes lead to long stays in the NICU. Neonatal intensive care nurses, like Nannette, have a passion for working with infants and families.

EDUCATION:
- Bachelor's Degree: Long Island University Brooklyn

HOSPITAL AFFILIATION:
- Staten Island University Hospital

AWARDS:
- Expressions of Gratitude - 2019
- Daisy Award - 2015
- Gold Metal Award
- New York-Presbyterian Falcon Award
- Seamen's Society for Children and Families Award
- Charles Hermann Outstanding Leader Award

Top Neonatal Intensive Care Nurse

in New York