CERTIFIED REGISTERED NURSE

 1235 Wilson Ave, North York, ON M3M 3G7, Canada

Viorica is a registered nurse who is affiliated with Humber River Hospital - a major acute care hospital in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. It is a teaching hospital with emergency and intensive care services, maternity, and other services. The mission of Humber River Hospital is to work together to deliver innovative and compassionate health care in the community.

Attributing his success to his love for his profession, Viorica enjoys what he does. He specializes in several areas in the field of nursing, including geriatrics, home care, plastic surgery, operating room nursing, and recovery room care.

After earning his nursing degree from Romania, he received his certification in Basic Life Support (BLS). BLS is a level of medical care which is used for victims of life-threatening illnesses or injuries until they can be given full medical care at a hospital. It can be provided by trained medical personnel, including emergency medical technicians, paramedics, and by qualified bystanders.

A registered nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
