

Lee Hanes, RN, BSN

REGISTERED NURSE

Lee is a registered nurse who specializes in many facets relating to her field, including home health, critical care nursing, psychiatry, pediatrics, and long-term care.

At present, she tends to patients within the state of Missouri. Alongside her clinical role, she has taught certified nursing assistant students in Missouri.

Throughout her academic career, Lee earned her nursing degree from the Royal Albert Edward Infirmary back in 1975. She holds a certificate in Basic Life Support (BLS - not intended for postnominal use).

A registered nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
